Don't Get Annoyed by Ants

Ants - they may seem harmless marching in a row on your sidewalk, but once they make their way into your home, they can wreak havoc. From getting into your food, to grossing out your family members and guests, ants are a nuisance that is best to avoid. Where most ants are just that - a nuisance - carpenter ants can cause considerable damage to your home or other wooden structures on your property. They also travel a great distance to cause that damage, so controlling them can be very difficult. Don't ignore an ant problem and put your home at risk. Avoid the nuisance and risk associated with ants by letting Acme identify what type of ants you are dealing with and eliminate them at the source - the way only we know how.
